Dear John, and Group,

I thought I might sit for a moment and see if Michel has any statement for you all. He has been here today giving me some explanation on understanding on a personal level and I feel he might also have something to say to you.

In Christ Light, Greetings,

It is important that each of you remember to surround yourself in the Light of the most high in order to help yourself attain man with the will and Consciousness of God. Daily ask that the Pure White Light of the Holy Spirit fill and surround you, protect and guide you on the path to God Consciousness. In this way the Holy Spirit can begin to raise your focus upward into your own holy self, your God Consciousness so that you might start living more complete, the pattern of life you came here to fulfill.

In surrounding and protecting yourself in the Divine Light of God, you will eventually be able to see more clearly the truth that is around you and in you. Unless you look for God you will not find Him. This is because we each see what we focus our consciousness upon. So focus to the highest Light and that is what you will see and ultimately become.

The same is true with the foundation. Place the foundation in the Pure Light and offer it to the Light for the highest good of all concerned, and truly the highest good will ultimately manifest within & thru the foundation. And allow yourselves to see truth in the light which comes to you concerning the foundation and the decisions which need to be made so the forward movement & growth continue. By this I mean, take your questions into prayer and meditation and offer your questions to the Light and allow the Light to respond. It may take time

As the answer to come or it may come immediately whether or whenever is not important. What is important is that you must learn to open up to the Light and learn to receive from the Light its teachings and knowledge.

When it has been stated in the past, we spirit, can and will give guidance and lay out a format but that we would not make the final decision, this is what we meant. Take into yourself ~~and~~ that which we present and ask God ⁱⁿ His Light to bring to you the knowledge of how best can you and those around you ~~go~~ out and fulfill that which has been given. Unless we say, this is the way it must be done, and interpret this not, just take what we give and do it, unless you hear the word, it is up to each of you to find the truth in our statements and find the best way to fulfill that which is given. Only in this way shall you grow.

Each of you are asking within yourself, what is the function of the land that is being pursued in the Palomares area and ~~then~~ so is it according to what spirit and God wants. Before I answer or give understanding sit quietly for and meditate and let God within answer. What importance is the land and how could it or would it be used if acquired?

Has it not been said there will be need of a center where the foundation can present ideas from all different areas of the health industry and healing arts so that a new and high level of healing might come forth. Has it not been said that a clinic might be necessary in order to test and perfect ways of healing and that is the manner present them to the world. This implies research then along with the clinic.

Much of the research can & will be conducted elsewhere in the world but eventually a place will be needed to bring these different areas of study and research together to better perfect a method of healing. This will also apply to other areas than directly connected to healing in the future as well. ~~It must~~ as study of communication with the side, etc. Along with this a center of some sort will then be needed to instruct those interested so they can go out and use these new ideas & methods in the world.

Remember though, it is up to you in the foundation as to the direction and course of action that will come about. You each must find a center of truth and knowledge which directs you to what "feels" right for the foundation and then as a group and in discussing ideas, understanding and knowledge can be presented and discussion made. Remember also, the core group is not the final say for the foundation; but is only a guiding light. Soon as the core group will be active in the actual decision making process, and it is in the core group through meditation and discussion that a clearer view might be derived. But the final say of the core group is not the final say, it is only a guiding light. This is where the core group must learn to separate itself from the foundation as the parent must release the child. The parents are there to give birth, to ~~and~~ nurture and educate, to direct and guide but not to dictate nor to control. So it must be and is now with the core group. You are the parents that have helped give birth and is now helping in the raising of the child.

The next step has been taken by the foundation in its forward movement. It will take time for all ~~to manifest~~ ~~from~~ this step in forward movement but all ready it is beginning to be felt. It is important that each of you and all who will be involved with the foundation must realize that movement and change must and will take place and the shore involved must learn to expect and grow with the change. It may not always be easy to do so, but if you learn now to expect change then growth the further will be much easier for each involved and the foundation will grow that much faster. The reason being, the less friction to the forward movement the faster the movement. So you can be a stone on the path or the oil that helps all to run smoother. Remember that, being open to change does not mean being unconcerned or unaware. You can be open to change and even aid in that change but you also can ~~be~~ questioning and searching to help find the answer and the right direction. There is constructive and destructive participation. You can choose from. Constructive means being detached and yet caring. Being able to view events and ideas and offer suggestions and questions without the self being involved. Destructive means being focused more on what the individual wants to take place ~~that is really needed~~ rather than, what does the foundation need to continue in its growth. Always check and see if you make a statement about anything, concerning the foundation or anyone in life, always ask yourself, does that statement offer a detached selfless view or is it a statement of self seeking something for self. Learn to be Selfless. Learn to be detached. In this way you will see the Greater Picture.

In review then, know that the property will suit the need of the foundation just well. Plan well and all will go well, so begin laying out in your mind what can and should be done with the property. Be willing then to allow those plans to change and expand as you become more aware of the Greater Picture. Also it would like you to know that the water on the property will help greatly in raising the energies of the land and the buildings because of the dows activity and the cleansing effect that water dows have. Keep in mind the lake and the dows of the water as well as the land and its dows and use these energies well. Design the area to balance with the flow of the dows beyond as well as the natural electrical field of the property. In this manner greater ideas can come forth and greater potential for healing will be present. Here is an idea. You might want to begin collecting water samples from the major healing water and place them in the lake to help raise the energy as well and unify the healing energies on the property. This can be done during certain times this is by no means something that is absolutely necessary but is just an idea given which could prove beneficial.

Remember to keep ~~and~~ balance in your research + development. If you want to develop a complete process for healing, balance in research and development is a must. Remember all aspects of a persons making, the physical, emotional, mental and spiritual and neglect none. Balance is a major factor in healing and if one part of a persons nature is neglected total health is not achieved. On the physical; chemical, surgical, nutritional, energy balance, and all techniques which supply health on this level need to be pursued, understood, and balanced. This incorporates chakra balancing, aura study, and balancing, and color therapy as well. These areas also affect the emotional and mental and spiritual being of the individual. There is need of major studies in the emotional and mental nature through psychology and areas which will help both understand and balance these areas. Through further studies in these areas the power of the mind can better be utilized in the healing process.

All of this has been stated before. All I am trying to point out is maintain Balance, Balance in yourself, in the core group, in the foundation and in the Research.

In the Loving Light of Dad, Michael -

Hi!
I wanted to share with you something I also saw on the property. I had insight when I was shown energy rising up from the land as well as energy coming down to the land. This represents a balance in the flow of energy concerning the physical and the spiritual. I felt this was good confirmation about the property.

Also I had a dream which I was shown a 1 room school house and we were seated inside discussing things. Suddenly we were in a fairly large school which seemed like a high school, and we were now holding a meeting with the teacher. Then I saw a university campus which was linked up somehow with the university and a meeting was being conducted on how to be coordinate a flow of communication within the system.

This I felt meant that we may be starting out small but we will grow to be larger than ever before. Also I feel it means the foundation will have a lot to do with coordinating knowledge and unifying research.
